		Yes	Partially	No
Knowledge of media and Wider Reading	Keep a record of a range of at least 5 media texts that you consume between now and September. Make notes on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> What you feel is the appeal of each. (i.e. why are/were you, and others, attracted to it in the first place and what 'pleasures' does it provide?). Research the Uses & Gratifications Theory to support your comments.
Independent Research	Write a response (of approx. 500 words/1 side of A4) to the question: How does the trailer for Black Panther communicate meaning in relation to the 'Superhero' film genre? https://youtu.be/xjDjWPwcPU
Extended Writing	Think about: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> What do elements of the trailer (visual and audio) reveal about the film's narrative, themes and characters, and how is this related to the film genre it represents? You can explicitly or implicitly acknowledge/explore that 'Superhero' is a hybrid genre and focus on some/all of the following genres: 'action', 'adventure', 'fantasy', 'science-fiction'.
